Gillette Emphasizes Post War Planning Before Economists

CLIMAXING A BUSY two-day meeting, the Academy of World Economics devoted its concluding session to a discussion of "America's Place in the Post-War World." As the principal speakers, Senator Guy Gillette (D.) of Iowa and Representative James Fulbright (D.) of Arkansas stated their cases for our full participation in international affairs after the Axis is defeated.

The 21st general meeting of the Academy, of which Prof. John Donaldson is chairman of the board, held sessions at the Brookings Institution, Georgetown University, and here at the Hall of Government for the final session, which was held Saturday evening. Establish World Organization

"I believe that action can be taken now which will assure our allies that the United States will cooperate in establishing an organization which will bring post-war peace and security," Gillette said.

"We should take no action which will lead our allies to believe that it will guarantee freedom from want for if we promise this and fail, it will lead to future trouble. However, freedom from want is the most important goal which can be established today."

Later, in summing up the position of the United States, Gillette stated: "America can not be selfish and inconsiderate toward the needs of the world."

Fulbright, dynamic member of the House of Representatives, declared: "We must adapt ourselves to a change in strategy and principle. We must make the decision that we are going to participate in a postwar world. This is the first step."

Isolation Disappeared
"Technically," Fulbright said later, "we are ready for international organization. Isolationists have disappeared—they call themselves Americans now."

"We cannot defend ourselves. America is near the peak of its ascendancy, while other nations such as Russia will continue to increase greatly their strength and influence."

The sessions were held in co-sponsorship with Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honor Society. General subject of the two-day meeting was "International Reconstruction," and many recognized authorities were on hand to contribute to discussions.

Palmer Smith Reveals First Activity Drive

FIRST DRIVE sponsored by the newly formed Activities Council will be a mass blood donation drive, Chairman Palmer Smith announced Friday.

Arrangements are being made with the Red Cross to have a truck come to the University and carry the students to the hospital. About twenty or twenty-five students will be able to go at once, Smith stated. The drive is planned for this Spring. Results of this effort and of the success of the summer school's work will determine whether the Council will have a permanent place in the University's program.

The purpose of this Council is to stimulate participation in war activities on campus and to coordinate effort.

A meeting of the Council will be called in the next few weeks from each of the major organizations on campus, such as the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils, Women's Athletic Association, Engineering, Law and Medical Schools. It is headed by the Activities Director of the Student Council.

The blood drive is a part of a larger outline planned by the Council. Each of a number of drives will be coordinated into one large program covering the whole year. Directors will be chosen to head each drive and to keep track of all organizations participating.

Owing to the fact that Student Council elections on May 5, 6 and 7 will cause a change in Activities Director, no specific plans for the future of the Council can be made until the new director is in office.

Economics Group To Tap Majors

ARTUS, ECONOMIC Honorary Society will initiate several new economic majors, Wednesday, April 28.

According to Professor Burns, "The Artus is strictly a society for male students majoring in economics." Following initiation, the problem concerning International Stabilization of Currency will be analyzed.

Dr. Hans Neisser will be main speaker. He will contrast the two present proposed plans for monetary stabilization, the British plan by Keynes and the American plan,

Drama Club Show Set Next Week

Wardman Park Theatre Hired; Tickets 65 Cents

CUE AND CURTAIN will present "Heart of the City," a play by Lesley Storm, Friday and Saturday nights, April 30 and May 1, at the Wardman Park Hotel Theater. Director Floyd Sparks announced Sunday. Tickets can be secured from members of the cast or in the Student Club.

Price of the tickets will be 65 cents. Sparks said and because of the small seating capacity of the theater, only 800 tickets will be sold, 400 for each night.

Anne Evans will play the leading part of Rosalind. Dick Bear has the male lead, portraying Paul Lundy, British bomber command squadron leader. Sue McNeese as Judy and Toni Ziff as Toni also have important parts in the play. The story of the play is built around the lives of English burlesque chorines.

Others in the cast are: Bob Meade, portraying Quentin Thompson; Stanley Shepard, the bomber captain; Cherrie Frost, Valerie; Mary Riello, Frenchy; Kathleen Goodwin, Joan; Zella Diamond, Bubbles; Marjorie Sjolseth, Lila Saddle; Virginia Lee Reamers, Girt; Harriet Hulfish, Mrs. Judd, and Jean Crowther, Elisabeth Rogers.

"Heart of the City" was produced in New York in 1941, but was withdrawn after a short run. Its plot is laid in London during the German bombings after the fall of France. Sparks said that the Cue and Curtain production will be a rewritten version, edited by Barrett Clark, prominent New York "play doctor."

Cue and Curtain also secured the original sound effects records used in the Broadway production from the Dramatists Play Service. Scenery is being done by Dave Grimes, Cue and Curtain stage manager, assisted by the class in stagecraft. It is expected to be completed this week and moved to the theater the day before the play.

Sparks said that in his opinion the rewritten version, which the club will present is "a much better script" than that used in the original New York presentation.

"Heart of the City" will be the first Cue and Curtain play to be staged since the successful performance of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" last fall, also staged at the Wardman Park Theater.

Columnist Speaks To Faculty Women
MISS MALVINA Lindsay, columnist of the Washington Post, was guest speaker at the spring luncheon of the Faculty Women's Club of the University Friday.

Her subject was "Goodbye Mrs. Blimp," a discussion of how war is affecting feminine social history.

Mrs. E. C. Albritton and Mrs. Elmer Kayser were hostesses for the luncheon. Mrs. Frederick Felker was chairman for arrangements.

Smokes Drive To Reach Goal 'If All Funds Are Turned In'
ALTHOUGH not all campus organizations have turned in donations to the "Smokes for Yanks" drive, Director Pat Orr announced last night she was "certain" that the University would reach its goal of $250.

Four campus organizations pledging $50 each have not yet turned in money, but it is expected they will reach their quota. The organizations are: TKE, Sigma Kappa, Phi Phi, and KA.

Phi Phi's have turned in $20 of their goal and the KA's $25. Organizations who have turned in their donations are: Cue and Curtain, $250; Kappa Kappa Gamma, $435; Phi Mu, $330; Engineer Society, $554; Student Council, $220; Sigma Nu, $1050; W. A. A., $500; Acacia, $1000; Phi Sigma Kappa, $1000; Law School, $178; and general collections amounted to $37.15.

18 Named for Membership in Dance Group

ORCHESIS' annual Initiation of newly elected members, in the form of a buffet supper, will be held in the Pi Beta Phi sorority rooms May 1 at 6 p.m. Membership invitations have been sent 18 University modern dance students.

William Calfee, noted Washington sculptor and painter, will speak informally to the dance group, following supper, on "Movement in Dance and Movement in Sculpture." Mr. Calfee, whose works have been exhibited at numerous galleries in Washington, principally Phillips, is also well known as a teacher.

Special guests invited to the supper include Evelyn Davis, past University student and now director of the Dance Playhouse, Elizabeth Andrews, Dance Critic for the Washington Dance Association, Joan Giles and Lucie Petta, both former heads of Orchestis.

Having exhibited their ability to conform with Orchestis' standards of excellence in modern dance the following have received formal invitations to become members of the production group: Jane Clark, (See DANCERS, Page 4)

ADPi Receives Blossom Award At Greek Prom

HIGHLIGHT of the Panhellenic dance held last Thursday in the new Shoreham ballroom was the awarding of the Cherry Blossom Cup to Alpha-Delta Pi Sorority.

Second prize of five dollars went to Pi Delta Phi, and third place and three dollars were awarded to Delta Zeta, last year's winners.

Alpha Delta Pi sold $143.24 in blossoms, Pi Phi $88.90, and Delta Zeta $80.98. Over $500 in blossoms were sold altogether, Margery Gessford, director of the drive, announced Sunday.

Kappa Kappa Gamma won the basketball and volleyball tournaments, and the Delta Zeta's won the bowling trophy. The badminton award went to two independents.

The dance, held from 10 till 1, was one of the few formal dances given this year. Sorority members and their dates crowded the floor.

About a hundred girls took advantage of the offer of blind dates with Army and Navy officers. These officers, plus the servicemen stags, gave the dance a very military look.

The Cherry Blossom Drive, which ended at six on the evening of the dance, is an annual affair, sponsored by the Masonic Clubs of Washington. The money from the drive is used to furnish two scholarships in the Foreign Service School of the University.

The athletic tournaments for sorority girls were sponsored by the Women's Intramural Board, which is composed of one representative from each of the sororities on campus.

Shoreham Site Of Bond Dance Next Tuesday

STUDENTS FROM high schools and universities in Washington will participate in an Easter War Service Bond Dance and Rally in the main ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

A service band and Buddy Wilson's Victory Orchestra will furnish the music for the dance.

Moving pictures showing the effect of war bonds in aiding the war effort will be shown. A speaker from the Treasury Department will deliver a short address concerning bond purchases.

Charles Daugherty and Harry Michelson, editors of The Hatchet, have been selected to serve on the committee to promote bond sales. Other students of the University have participated in the selling of bonds.

The committee has already sold $30,000 worth of bonds. It plans to use the money collected from the Easter campaign to purchase a fighter plane which will be called "The Easter Fighter Plane."

Paul S. Van Auker and H. A. Beuerman, administrators of the Washington office of the War Savings Staff, will be present at the rally Tuesday night to accept pledges for the Easter campaign.

The committee has requested a large student turnout at the rally.

Wells Improved
DR. CARL D. Wells, professor of sociology, expects to leave the city this week for his family home in California to recover from a recent operation, it was learned Thursday night.

Dr. Wells, who underwent an operation at Garfield Hospital last month, stated that he hopes to be able to return to his duties at the University in September.

Cherry Tree Starts Final Sales Drive

FINAL DRIVE for 1943 Cherry Tree subscriptions is now on, Business Manager Fred Kingman announced Sunday.

The circulation staff is giving all students an opportunity to sign up through its various means.

The easiest way for students to get their subscriptions in is by seeing Peggy Payne in the Comptroller's office, Kingman announced. Fraternities, sorority and other organization members may subscribe to the annual through their chapter representatives.

If one-third of the membership of any organization subscribe to the yearbook, a refund of $1.00 for every member who subscribes will be given. This means that if 20 people out of an organization consisting of 60 members subscribe, their page in the Cherry Tree will be paid for. Price of the yearbook is $3 and will again be payable in three installments $1 down and the remaining $2 on delivery.

All subscription books of fraternities and sorority members will be sold the same way as last year—through fraternity and sorority representatives. Subscription books must be returned to the Comptroller's office by April 30.

A new feature of this year's Cherry Tree will be cartoons by Charlie Shinn, a Corcoran Art School student. He cartoons intramural sports and each fraternity and sorority will get a cartoon on his page. There will be a "great deal" of candid pictures and leg art in advertising and campus life.

It is hoped that the Cherry Tree will be issued during exam week. It has been delayed somewhat because of the shortages of materials such as engraving, printing and photographic, editors have said.

Because of the shortage of help in companies this year, it was necessary for them to do their own designing of the book.

The book this year will be dedicated to University students in the armed services.

Internationalists Entertain Tonight
NATIVE COSTUMES, handiwork, songs and dances will highlight entertainment given by the International Students' Society tonight in International House at 8:15.

British soldiers now in Washington will be guests at the party. Virginia Knauer and Marie Louise Ralph are co-chairmen.

THE AMERICAN Geophysical Union will hold its 24th annual meeting Friday and Saturday in the Hall of Government.

Mr. Anatol James Schneiderov of the Division of University students will present a paper on "Eseponential law of gravitation and its effect on seismological and tectonic phenomena." The presentation of a paper before this meeting shows an unusual accomplishment for an undergraduate student.

The schedule of the meetings and the topics on which papers will be presented follows: April 23, 9:15 a.m., Room 202, Oceanography; Room 203, Volcanology; Room 101, Meteorology, and Hydrology in Room 102.

April 23, 2:15 p.m., Room 107, Meteorology; Room 102, Hydrology; Room 202, Tectono Physics, and in Room 203, Terrestrial Magnetism and Electricity.

April 24, 9:15 a.m., Room 102, Hydrology; Room 202, Geodesy, and Seismology in Room 203.

April 24, 2:15 p.m., there will be a general conference session in Room 101, and papers will be presented on Hydrology in Room 102. Medals are presented each year to students who have done outstanding work in some field of geophysics. This year the William Bowie medal will be presented by Dr. M. H. Adams, vice-president of the Union, at the Saturday session.

Papers will be presented by scientists from various universities, and students are invited to participate.

U. S. League, Allied Party Candidates Named For Battle

VIVIANNE HOOPPAW and Charles Daugherty, carrying banners of the United Student League and Allied Party respectively, will be rivals for the post of president in the approaching Student Council elections, according to slates set up by opposing factions.

Actually, neither political party has thus far been recognized by the Student Life Committee, and that group has stressed again that deadline for submission of necessary information is Thursday of this week.

WAB Drive Will Start Next Week

Annual Campaign For Dream Building Headed by Munson

OPERATING under the new slogan of "Bonds, Bullets, Bricks," the Women's Activities Building Drive will get under way next Monday with University girls selling war stamps to go into the fund of the campaign.

The fifth annual drive for the dream building, this year's campaign will take a new twist as the coeds try to help the war effort with the sale of stamps at the same time that they push the building drive. Stamps in denominations from 10 cents up will be available.

Heading the campus drive for the second successive year is Betty Munson, aided by Mary Hopkins, Mary Louise Ralph, Eileen Shaahan and Lois Smith. Advisors for the drive are Ruth H. Atwell, director of women's athletics; Mrs. William C. Johnstone and Helen Taylor.

Appealing to certain women's groups as sponsoring organizations, to donate money out of their treasuries or to conduct special campaigns to raise funds, the directors of the drive expect to raise a sizeable addition to the amount of over $2,000 collected in the previous years of the effort.

The student body in general, men and women, is expected to be reached by a system of personal contacts through direct sales of war stamps on campus.

Members of social sororities and other coeds have been enlisted to help in this end of the campaign.

In past years, under the slogan "Be a brick and buy a brick," the campaign has attempted to secure a donation of at least $1 from every woman student of the University.

Slogan of the present campaign is intended to emphasize the fact that money will be put into the building fund indirectly, through medium of bonds, and then be turned into "bricks" at the close of hostilities.

"I know that many people must think that this is a bad time to be talking about a building of any sort," stated Miss Munson, "but now is the time that people have the money to spare, and we are asking for contributions now. We could hardly hope to collect by our own efforts enough to put up a building anyway, and it is our hope now, as it has been all along, that we will be able to demonstrate to someone who is interested in a worthy cause that we have wanted our building badly enough really to make an effort to get it."

Miss Atwell, who has made a collection of information on women's activities buildings on college campuses all over the nation, said, "Some people think that our ideas are pretty visionary, but we all look forward to the time when George Washington will have as fine a campus as is to be found anywhere, and a suitable activities building will be an integral part of such a campus."

Under present plans, voting will take place on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, May 5, 6 and 7, at balloting places to be designated later. Each voter must present his second-semester activity book, signed in advance in a designated place. No person may vote by proxy.

In addition, the election rules promulgated by Student Council and approved by the Student Life Committee provide that "no person shall conduct electioneering at polling places within limits to be laid down."

A compromise political system will be enforced this spring. The days of free lollipops and blue-books are over as candidates and themselves limited to campaign publicity furnished by the Hatchet.

Easter Vacation Set This Week
EASTER RECESS will begin with end of classes Thursday evening and extend through Sunday. Classes resume Monday morning.

The University Library, including Law and Medical libraries, will be closed throughout the recess.

With next week's issue eliminated, The Hatchet will not again appear until Tuesday, May 4.

Final examination schedules will be listed in the next issue.

While the United Student League has openly released its slate for the forthcoming elections, scheduled for May 5 and 6, Allied chiefs have not officially declared their stand on candidates. These listed are believed to be the selected standard bearers, however, up to press time this morning, according to reliable Hatchet sources.

Other candidates for office, their greek affiliation and party, are: Advocate, Marshall Gardner (A), TKE, and Bill Redel (USL); Sigma Nu; Comptroller, Jean Crowther (A), Sigma Kappa, and Gerard Jetton, (USL) SAE; Secretary, Dorothy Wolfe (A), Phi Sigma Sigma, and Barbara Simons, (USL) ADPI; Activities Director, Pat Orr, (USL), Pi Beta Phi, and Bill Craver (A), PIKA; Program Director, Mary Lou Fitzsimmons (A), Phi Mu, and Frank Twiteller, (USL), KA.

Others are: Freshman Director, Charles Sures (A), Phi Alpha, and John Fokk (USL), Sigma Chi; Publicity Director, Pauline Gish (A), Kappa Delta, and Margery Gessford (USL), Pi Beta Phi.

Although Ruth Wright, ADPI, has been nominated by the USL group as its candidate for Social Chairman, Allied leaders have not yet put forth a candidate, although it is generally believed that Theta Delta Chi's Jim Bacon will run for the post.

Presidential aspirants Hooppaw and Daugherty are members of Chi Omega and Phi Sigma Kappa, respectively.

Of candidates thus far named, only Pat Orr, USL's Activities Director hopeful, has served a previous term on the Council as an elected member. Competing for the post of Social Chairman in last Spring's voting, Miss Orr pled up a substantial majority over her opponent, and won with no trouble.

At the same time, Miss Simons met defeat in contesting for a student governing position, and likewise the prospective Social Chairman, Jim Bacon.

Officer-candidates with previous Council experience, though in appointive capacity, are Miss Hooppaw, co-director of Buff 'n Blue this year, and Margery Gessford, Cherry Blossom Drive director.

With return of open politics to campus after a year's enforced absence, the campus is expected once again to ring with cries and pleas of candidates and party men in search of votes.

Last year, under a Student Council firmly resolved to abolish "dirty politics" from campus, all political parties were banished, theoretically. This year, the accumulated dust was removed from "skeletons in the closet," and party coalitions once more recognized.

Since last year's electorate did not go above the disappointingly small number of 400 voters, students generally felt the scheme a failure, and that the election had been no more than "generally" clean.

Under present plans, voting will take place on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, May 5, 6 and 7, at balloting places to be designated later. Each voter must present his second-semester activity book, signed in advance in a designated place. No person may vote by proxy.

In addition, the election rules promulgated by Student Council and approved by the Student Life Committee provide that "no person shall conduct electioneering at polling places within limits to be laid down."

A compromise political system will be enforced this spring. The days of free lollipops and blue-books are over as candidates and themselves limited to campaign publicity furnished by the Hatchet.

Boxing Tourney Prelims Underway Tonight

Hatchet Sports

Final Bouts Are Held Thursday

Gold and Silver Gloves, Cup Are Offered

• THE PRELIMINARIES of the All-University Boxing Tournament will be held tonight at 8 p.m., and the finals Thursday night at the same time in the Tin Tabernacle. Admission is free and open to everyone.

Fully modeled boxing gloves of golden hue will be awarded the winner of each class and silver gloves the runners-up. It was announced by Intramural Director Art Endres.

Endres also stipulated that all contestants must report for a final physical examination to Dr. Richard Castell, associate University Physician, at 7 p.m. tonight. Late contestants are welcome, and entries will be accepted up until 2 p.m. this afternoon. If the proposed fighter has not participated in the just-completed training program, he must prove to the satisfaction of Dr. Lentz that he can box and is in good condition, in addition to passing the regular physical examination.

As an added incentive, the University will present a Sun-Glove Boxing Trophy to the outstanding boxer of the tournament. He will be picked by three men prominent in local pugilistic circles. They are Bill Blake, chief instructor of the District Boxing Commission and chairman of the local Amateur Athletic Union; Dick O'Brien, boxing editor for the Washington Times-Herald and secretary of the District Boxing Commission; and Lou Gevinson, an outstanding featherweight developed in the District and boxing instructor for the east section of the Washington Boys' Club.

The preliminary bouts will be refereed by John Clarey, the finals by Eddie LaFond, athletic director at C. U. Judges will be Dr. Burnice Jarman and John Busick, and the timekeeper Doc Lentz. The seconds and ring attendants will be picked from physical education majors. Ring-side doctor will be Doctor Castell.

The ring has been donated by the Capital Transit Company through the efforts of Frankie Mann, District fight manager of such pugilists as Jimmy De Chard.

Teke Foilers Outclass Sigma Nu's, 7-1

• TAU KAPPA Epsilon defended its open challenge in the fencers' first round in the interfraternity fencing tournament when it defeated Sigma Nu's power team, 7 to 2.

Defending it's right to hold the school championship TKE won the first round in the interfraternity fencing tournament when it defeated Sigma Nu's power team, 7 to 2.

Allegri, a new pledge of TKE, took team honors when he won all his three matches, beating Emmit Skinner 5 touches to 1; Bill Redel, Sigma Nu's finest player and one of the best in the University, was beaten, 5-4, then he finished with McGregor, 5 to 4.

Tommy Eckert of TKE defeated McGregor of SN 5 to 3 and Skinner 5 to 3, but lost his last match to Redel 1-5.

Charles Fugitt defeated Jim McGregor, 5-3, and Skinner, 5-0, but lost also to Redel, 3-5.

Redel was the only Sigma Nu to win any matches, but this can be explained by the fact that both Fugitt and Allegri are experienced fencers, while Sigma Nu had a rather novice player.

TKE still issues the challenge to all college fencing groups. Any persons or groups may issue a challenge through Charles Fugitt, captain of the TKE team.

Baker Leaves for Chapel Hill; Wallace Goes to Camp Lee

By JAY F. DODD

• THE UNIVERSITY'S football coach, Johnny Baker, and Charley Wallace, the Colonial publicity director, are both leaving the University for the service.

Baker hits out Wednesday for Chapel Hill, N. C., to report as lieutenant (j.g.) in the Navy Pre-flight program, while Wallace is leaving today for Camp Lee, Va., where he will report with a group of Washington inductees.

Baker is leaving the school just when his life was wrapped around it. He graduated from George Washington, married a G. W. coed, the former Julia Fick, and became the first alumni football coach.

'Mural Softball Hits Stride; 15 Homers

• THE INTRAMURAL Softball League began its second week, marking two of the three games with the usual flock of homers. Jim Rauch's team beat the Medical School by a lopsided 20-4 score. With Bill Dellatious and St. Wagon's pitching marred only by Kegan's home, the Rauch outfit was in complete command after taking a four-run lead in the first inning. Joe Ryan had two homers, Bill Dellatious one, Clarence Kuldehl one, and Jim Graham one for the winners. Criley and Adams went in complete command after taking a four-run lead in the first inning.

The underdog Reichwein outfit pulled a surprise victory, 8-2, over the highly favored Fitzgerald aggregation behind the great pitching of Zuzu Stewart with Bill Cantwell catching. Jack Fitzgerald and Tim Swett were the Fitzgerald's battery.

Erico Seeno's team took the Naval Ordnance Laboratory outfit 10-4 with Myron Vleck and Art Endres pitching and Nick Bubonovich catching for the winners. Nick Bubonovich, Myron Vleck and John Konesjewski homered for the Seeno outfit. O'Dea and Mosser were the losing battery.

The schedule for the remainder of the year is as follows:
May 2, Seeno's hits into the Rauch outfit; Naval Ordnance Laboratory meets Reichwein's aggregation, and Fitzgerald's tangles with the Medical School.

On May 9, Seeno's encounters the Medical School outfit; Fitzgerald's mixes with the Naval Ordnance Laboratory, and Rauch's battles the Reichwein team.

On May 16, the closing date, Seeno's meets Fitzgerald's; Rauch's the Naval Ordnance Laboratory, and Reichwein's takes on the Medical School aggregation.

The standing, including last Sunday's games, is as follows:

Intramural Night, April 29, Spotlights Seven Sports

• THE LONG-AWAITED Intramural Night of Champions will be staged Thursday, April 29, in the Tin Tabernacle, according to Intramural Director Art Endres. Finals in basketball, table tennis, handball, volleyball, badminton, basketball free throw and fencing will be held, and the winners presented with medals.

M. Bernard Hecht forfeited to Charles Fugitt in Intramural Fencing competition, and as a result Fugitt will engage Lee Willer on the big night for the title.

Jim Cushman's fourth-hour Friday gym class will play John Mandes fourth-hour Thursday class Monday evening for the right to battle the Interfraternity champion Theta Delta team on Intramural Night.

KA and PiKA Lead in Greek Softball

• KAPPA ALPHA, behind the fine pitching of Bill Dellatious took the lead in League A by trouncing Acacia 19-1, and Pi Kappa, well-developed Sigma Chi by a score of 27-17 to take the lead in League B as Interfraternity softball entered its second week.

PIKA started off well by batting in six runs in the opening half of the first inning. Kappa Alpha only allowed Acacia to get one run in the sixth inning and scored almost at will.

Sigma Nu's David DuPre slammed out a home run in the sixth inning to put his club back into a close game with Phi Sigs. However, his homer wasn't quite enough as Jack Prothero's twirling to Chuck Daugherty proved too much for SN. Final score, 7-6. The athletic prowess of TDX has finally been stopped. SAE romped over the once-beaten Theta Deltas to put them at the bottom of their league. The final score was 13-7. Tau Kappa Epsilon drew a bye.

On May 2, SAE mixes with TKE, TDX meets Acacia, while KA draws a bye. In League B, SN mixes with SX and PSK meets PIKA.

Equestriennes Plan Annual Spring Horse Show on May 6

• HORSEMANSHIP at the University's best will be publicly exhibited at the Annual Spring Horse Show May 6 from 4 to 6 at the Potomac Riding Academy.

Members of the riding classes and qualified non-members attending the University will participate in the show, held each year to display the accomplishments of student horsewomen.

Participation of riders in the first three classes, elementary, intermediate and advanced, will be according to their excellence and experience. Elementary horsemanship class competitors, who will be judged according to the use of their hands and feet, must trot, walk, canter, mount, and dismount their steeds.

Entrants in the intermediate horsemanship class will be judged according to the manner in which they walk, trot and canter their mounts with and without stirrups. Their manner of mounting and dismounting will also be noted.

Advanced horsemanship class participants will not only walk, trot and canter, with and without stirrups, mount, dismount and back their horses, but will have the added privilege of changing mounts with anyone whom the judges direct and repeating the routine.

Musical chair class, similar to the children's game with the added handicap of mounting and dismounting, costume race and pair class, which requires the closest of coordination between two riders, are three events open to all who wish to enter.

The jumping event, which involves no jump over three feet six inches, is open to intermediate and advanced equestriennes.

First, second and third ribbons will be awarded the three winners in each class. Judges, not yet selected, will have no connection whatsoever with the University to insure the impartiality of their decisions.

Applications for entrance in the show must be submitted to Elizabeth Burnier, riding instructor, by May 1. Two riding practices in the regular classes, held each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 2 o'clock at the Potomac Riding Academy, are the only requirements participants must meet. The Potomac Riding Academy is located at 26th and D Streets N.W.

BEFORE I FORGET

By CHARLES DAUGHERTY

• THE MOST HEARTENING EVENT of the year from the standpoint of Intramural Athletics and their place in the future sports life of the University takes place tonight and Thursday night in the Tin Tabernacle. It is the first Boxing Tournament of any size to be held here in recent years, and upon its size and success much depends.

Having placed much of the money that would have been put into Varsity baseball, had not that sport been discontinued, into Art Endres' Intramural program, particularly boxing, the University is watching the results with interest. If the maulers put on a thumping good show, and the indications so far are that they will, Endres may not have any difficulty when he puts the touch on the Administration for additional funds for wrestling or some other sport.

In conducting boxing in the way that it has, the Athletic Department has uncovered a rich and previously untapped source of material. This source is the regular gym class set-up, and in addition the Navy training program, which is a direct outgrowth of the war. By using these men a reasonably steady supply of manpower is assured. There is the additional advantage that they are at all times in fairly good physical shape.

Objections have been voiced that restricting programs such as the one under discussion to the day-school gym classes is unfair to the night students, who are in a great majority. That is true, but under present circumstances, there is no alternative. Outside of the fraternity group, which has dominated the sports situation around here not because it was any better but simply because it was interested, only a very few men attending evening classes would take the trouble to engage actively in Intramurals.

In fact, it is my opinion that therein has laid the crux of the difficulties that have beset Intramural Directors for some time. In their efforts to accommodate the night students, they have neglected the full-time boys or forced them to participate at times inconvenient to them, and it just has not worked. Further, unless there is a great change in the nature of the personnel around here, it is not going to work.

Many more than 100 men have put on the gloves since the beginning of training a month or so ago. Real interest has been developed, and, according to Doc Lentz, who knows, no less than eight excellent prospects have emerged. It may be that the Army will get all of them and that there will be no more than a bare nucleus to carry over to next year. No matter. Good work has been done. By using day students and organized gym classes almost exclusively the University can put Intramurals up where they should be.

Record Breaking Schedule Offered In Summer Sessions

Will Start Registering On May 10

Slower Tempo "Arts" Study Is Permitted

• "LARGEST AND most complete" class schedule ever to be offered in a University Summer Session is announced in the new University Bulletin, now available in the Admissions Office.

A pre-registration period from May 10 to June 5 has been established to allow students to register for the summer while they are still at school in the previous semester. Classes will begin on June 7.

Inauguration of a "normal rate" study plan as well as regular accelerated programs is also announced. New courses designed to meet training needs brought on by the war will be introduced.

Sessions Extended
Under the normal rate plan students taking basic work in the liberal arts colleges may take classes meeting three times a week for fifteen continuous weeks. Any student may enroll for the accelerated program of two seven and one-half week sessions in which classes meet five times weekly.

With the extension of each summer term to seven and one half weeks, the University has geared itself to the war effort by operating on an almost 12-month basis. Practically a full University program will be given.

Class periods have been shortened to 50 minutes. The plan of shortened periods, longer sessions, and normal rate study is an effort to give students more time for study in and out of the classroom.

Meetings Speeded
Similar spacing of class meetings has been introduced into the School of Education where undergraduate professional classes will meet three times a week for double periods and graduate professional classes will meet twice a week at the same pace. The double summer session plan is the only one offered in the School of Education.

The normal rate summer program will begin on Monday, June 7 and end Friday, September 17. The first of the two sessions of accelerated work in the Junior College, the Columbian College, and the School of Government will begin concurrently. The first session will end Wednesday, July 28, while the next term will extend from Thursday, July 29 to Friday, September 17.

In addition to courses in the arts and sciences available to students in the School of Education, professional courses are offered in two sessions running from June 7 until July 28, and from July 29 until September 17, respectively.

Extension Division Lists New Courses Offered Next Term

• THE DIVISION of Extension has announced its program for the first summer session, in which several new courses of present and post-war value have been added to those offered previous semesters.

New courses include Air Transportation, Applied Mathematics, Geography of the Far East, Business in a Changing World, Science of Gardening, Visual Principles of Design in Camouflage, according to an announcement by Dr. Sidney B. Hall, Director of Extension.

Other courses on the Extension program include Arabic I, II, III; Chinese I, II, III; Newspaper Chinese I, II, III; Psychology 156—Measurement of Personality Traits; Psychology 236—Public Opinion and Propaganda; Business Administration 161—Government Budgeting.

Dr. Hall stressed the importance of the new "Air Transportation" course, which is designed to familiarize those of the business and industrial world and individuals in general with the new concept of geography of air transportation. In the post-war period, Dr. Hall pointed out, the greater proportion of inter-continental transportation of men and materials will be via passenger and cargo planes, creating new important junctions, and it will be necessary to restudy geography to obtain an accurate picture of the world in the coming Air Age.

"Business in a Changing World," Dr. Hall said, will give guidance to the business man in planning operations in the post-war world, covering such phases as war and business; government control of private enterprise; changing technologies in industrial production; transportation; United States and world economic policy.

"Geography of the Far East" will deal with basic geographic factors and their relationship to economic and political developments, and is designed to present basis for an intelligent understanding of the prosecution of the war and to furnish a background for post-war reconstruction in that area. "Visual Principles of Design in Camouflage" will be a study of fundamentals of visual design and their application for civilian defense and post-war needs, such as city planning.

Registration for Extension courses will be held May 24 through 31, at the office of the Division of Extension, Building F, 20 and G Streets, Room 10, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., daily except Saturday and Sunday. Further information can be obtained by calling the Extension Division, National 5200, extension 348.

A short session of six weeks will be offered for teachers who are not employed during the summer, beginning July 6 and ending August 17. Courses will be confined to subjects of an advanced and professional nature.

One continuous term extending from June 7 to September 17 will be offered to students in the School of Engineering. Information concerning engineering courses will be found in a special bulletin obtainable in the office of School of Engineering.

Students already enrolled in Medical School will study in a single term running from July 5 to October 23.

Two Terms In Law
The first of the double session schedule in Law School will begin Monday, June 7 and end Saturday, July 31. The second term will begin Monday, August 2 and end Saturday, September 25.

New courses include Education 279—Administering a Wartime School Program; Education 281—Education and the Post-war World; and Political Science 281—War and Post-war Problems.

Facilities for advanced study and research will also be afforded students registered under the Graduate Council.

Registrar Fred E. Nessell announced that a twenty-day pre-registration period would also be used for the fall term. He felt that the plan, not used at the University in the past twelve years, would enable the administration to avoid registration rush and to learn how many students to provide for.

Theta Tau Holds Party For Rushees

• GIVEN FOR the purpose of meeting prospective members, Theta Tau held its tri-annual rush party Friday at Weldrop's in Maryland.

Attending the party were engineering students whom the fraternity plans to tap for its next initiation. Present also were representatives from each of the engineering societies—the Associated Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Associated Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Associated Society of Civil Engineers. George Machen, president of the Engineer's Council and Genua, regent of Theta Tau, were also present.

The informal party, held from 10 till 2, was attended by about fifty couples, and ended with an hour songfest.

Election to Theta Tau is the highest honor given to engineers in the field of activities. Sigma Tau is the corresponding scholastic fraternity.

Chinese Addresses Women's Society

• MR. LIU LIANG-MO, a graduate of Shanghai University, will speak at an informal dinner given by Phi Pi Epsilon, National Women's Foreign Service Society, at the Faculty Club April 30.

"Mass singing," a revolutionary idea which has swept China and has helped to build up morale, was started by Mr. Liu because of his interest in the down-trodden in China. In 1937 he was commissioned by Madame Chiang Kai-shek to initiate "mass singing" to build morale in the Chinese Army.

Mr. Liu Liang-mo became a social worker after his graduation from Shanghai University in 1934, and came to the United States to do post-graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania. In 1941 he became a member of the Chinese Participation Department of the United China Relief and since that time has made lectures all over the United States.

McKinley Wins Tenth Annual Debate Battle

• MCKINLEY HIGH SCHOOL defeated Wilson to win first place in the tenth annual High School Debating Contest held at the University last Saturday.

Each entering team was composed of three speakers. Members of the winning team were Phyllis Foster, Eric Rhodes and Ruth Collins. They debated the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That a Federal World Government Should Be Established."

Miss Foster in her eight-minute negative constructive speech, contended that five insurmountable obstacles prevented a world federation plan. They are: national loyalties, hatreds and prejudices, ethnic dissimilarities, prevalence of illiteracy and inexperience in democracy among nations. The federation would constitute a threat to the way of life of the more advanced countries, she said.

Mr. Rhodes in the second negative speech alluded to the formation of an improved League of Nations which if unsuccessful would defeat any proposal or trial of federal world government advocated by the affirmative.

Seven schools took part in the contest. In the order in which they were eliminated they are Western, Coolidge, Eastern, George Washington, Gonzaga and Wilson High Schools. About thirty-five students represented the schools; each had an affirmative and a negative team of three debaters.

All the debaters are eligible to apply for the three one-year full tuition scholarships offered by the University, whose speech department sponsors the annual contest. An engraved wall plaque will be awarded McKinley High School, the winner.

Slide Rule Slants

by PIDA AND SCHREINER

• OF IMMEDIATE interest to student engineers is the election of officers for their respective societies for the next three semesters. These elections will be held at the regularly scheduled meets on the night of the first Wednesday of next month. The time is 8 p.m. as usual and the meeting places will be announced later. Watch the bulletin boards for posters and remember to read the announcement cards you receive from your society secretary.

Generally, near the end of the school year, the interest in the society meetings has decreased to a low ebb. This fact is indeed unfortunate because the election of officers which comes around about this time will determine the degree of success the societies will have during the next three semesters. So, when you read this try to look far enough into the future to appreciate this fact and then decide to give this problem of election some attention. The least you can do is talk to your fellow members and classmates about the available material for the jobs as officers of your societies. Then try to go a step farther and attend the meeting scheduled for next month, May 5, Wednesday, at 8 p.m.

Since the national war effort has placed greater importance and stressed the vital need for engineers, the engineers on the campus have been seeking positions of greater responsibilities. As a result of this combination of circumstances and desire, the engineers may be actively engaged in the Student Council elections. What form this expression will take is not as yet clear. However, whether it be as an independent party or in coalition with other groups we should remember that a responsibility is involved which must be taken seriously and discharged honorably.

Frederick Holcomb is the Engineers' Council representative on the Student Council. If you have any questions, we refer them to him.

• • • • •
The food rationing program is responsible for the cancellation of the Engineers' Banquet. This, however, does not stump the Council. In place of the banquet, the Council comes out with an "Engineer's Smoker." The program includes an informal greeting from Dean Feiker, short introductions of the society presidents of the Washington sections, some local entertainment, smokes of all sorts, beer and (this is most important to the alumni members) a lot of your old classmates. The place is: Cosmos Club on Madison Place between Pennsylvania Avenue and H Street, on the east side of Lafayette Park, only a stone's throw from the White House. The time is: May 15, Saturday night, about 6 p.m. The tariff is: 75 cents. The alumni are particularly urged to attend since this affair is especially designed for their interest.
